Fixed a number of unpleasant issues for our dog

Our hound has had to have his glands expressed for years. The buildup is very painful for him and he obsesses over it; the smell is bad; and of course the act of someone expressing them for him is quite unpleasant for everyone.

Our vet recommended that we try a healthy weight food to bulk up the stool and coax the glands to self-express. We had good luck with other Kirkland dog foods (especially Nature's Domain), so we tried this. It sure worked! He's a happy, healthy dog now, and has trimmed down to an appropriate weight. Recommend that anyone dealing with a similar problem try this -- of course, your mileage may vary. Every food is not for every pup.

Yes, I recommend this product.
